Popular Couple Who Were Married Last Week.

In the absence of details, brief mention was made last week of the wedding of Mr. Jno. M. Butler and Miss Mary Steger, of South Christian. The wedding occurred Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, Mr. E. W. Steger. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Kitzley, pastor of South Union and Locust Grove Baptist churches, with a beautiful ring service.

The bride was beautifully attired in a brown traveling dress, while the groom wore the usual suit of black. Following the ceremony, they repaired to the residence of the bride's brother, where they were given a six o'clock dinner.

The bride is one of the prettiest and most attractive young ladies in the county. Mr. Butler is a prosperous young planter, who is very popular with all who know him. He has taken his pretty bride to his home near Kennedy.

The Robards Tobacco Co. will, if reports are true, move to Mayfield, Ky., in the near future. Mr. Ed. T. Robards, president of the company, has been offered one of the best plants in the State from parties in that city. Not only have they offered him their splendid plant, but a backing as well, that will be hard to turn down, says the Henderson Herald.

Hostilities Resumed At Mukden And Conflicting Reports Received.

Rioting and pillage are in progress in Warsaw, in spite of the presence of large numbers of troops. British Consular officers there are reported to have been assaulted by Hussars, and the matter, it is said, has been called to the attention of the St. Petersburg Government by the British Ambassador. A severe storm at Moscow aided the authorities there in averting disorder, which was thought to be impending. There were no disturbances in St. Petersburg. In Batoum, Prince Gurlieli, an officer of the police was assassinated.

The influence of Grand Duke Sergei, the foremost of reactionaries, is alleged to have governed Emperor Nicholas ever since the strike troubles began. Reports continue rife that the terrorists are prepared to resume their activities.

Father Gapon, the leader of the St. Petersburg workmen, is reported to have escaped to Stockholm. The Holy Synod has denounced him as a "criminal priest" a betrayer of his sacred office.

The War in the East

The Russians have amassed 65,000 men on the Japanese left and are bombarding the left and center, while attacks are taking place all along the line. These attacks have thus far been repulsed, and there was stubborn fighting Sunday, the net results being a Japanese advance, the Russians retreating to the right bank of the Hun river. The casualties have not yet been reported.

CLOSE CALL

For This Youth Who Fell From Building.

Gordon Carothers, of Lafayette, was the victim of an accident Saturday morning which came near resulting seriously. He was in the loft of a stable which was in process of erection, when a brace on which he was standing gave way and the young man was thrown violently against the side of the building. He fell several feet and his head struck a piece of timber. The hair was cut from the scalp, covering a space the size of a silver dollar, and the scalp was punctured. The shock rendered him unconscious for several minutes and it was at first thought that he had been fatally hurt, but an examination by a physician showed that his injuries were not of a very serious nature.

THE TICKET.

SLATE WENT THROUGH.

No Attempt Was Made to Please the Negroes Who Resolved.

The Republican county committee met Saturday and nominated the county ticket to be voted for next November.

The machine was so well oiled, that the slate previously agreed upon was put through in short order, the committee completing its work in about an hour.

Chairman E. B. Long made a little plea for harmony and then Judge A. H. Anderson moved that the committee go into executive session.

Hon. Jas. F. Rogers, who was both a candidate and a committeeman, protested and when voted down resigned his place on the committee and withdrew as a candidate for representative before the committee. Jim walked out, Curt Brashear was elected to his place as committeeman, and the band played on.

The candidates were given a hearing and after they had all been given a chance to speak, the wheel was turned and the following glist ground out:

- County Judge, Jas. Breathitt.
- Attorney, C. O. Prosser.
- Clerk, Gabe L. Campbell.
- Sheriff, H. H. (Bud) Golsy.
- Assessor, H. C. Halsey.
- Jailer, Will W. Johnson.
- Supt. Schools, W. E. Gray.
- Surveyor, J. Spurlin Keys.
- Coroner, Jim Allensworth.
- Representative, E. S. Long.

Several aspirants who thought they were candidates were crushed under the wheels as the machine did its work. Among those who died hardest were Jas. F. Rogers and S. T. Fruit, Jr., for representative; Lawrence Yonts for attorney, and several negro candidates for jailer and coroner. Miss Katie McDaniel was set aside without ceremony and declined to even go before the committee.

Otho Anderson, Will Wicks and Jack Tate are making so little fuss that they are believed to be pretty well satisfied with the seats to be assigned them at the pie counter after it is all over.

Apparently the only concession made to the negro mass meeting was to put Will Johnson on as jailer in place of John Marquess, who was backed by Lem Davis.

Mr. Johnson is a partner of Claude Clark, the circuit clerk, in the grocery firm of Clark & Johnson.

All of the nominees except two live within sight of the court house. Esq. H. C. Halsey now lives in the Baker's Mill precinct, though he recently made his home in this city, and Will Gray lives at Crofton.

It is said that Judge Breathitt's acceptance is very doubtful. It is hardly likely that he will give up his extensive law practice to accept a laborious minor office that is little more than a clerkship, and that the law does not even require to be filled by a lawyer. The salary is not equal to single fees that lawyers of Judge Breathitt's character are supposed to receive every year. The office, unless neglected, requires the judge's entire time. Judge Breathitt was probably tendered the nomination to add "tone" to the ticket.

A position by an all-round printer, in good country office. Sober, married, 8 years experience. Address: "PRINTER," Kentuckian office.

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—For Kentucky—Fair and warmer Tuesday.

President Roosevelt on his Southern trip this spring will stop two hours in Louisville.

Ben Johnson, of Bardotown, nominee for the senate, has come out for Blackburn for senator.

Samuel H. Piles, the new Senator from the State of Washington, is a Kentuckian, who was born at Smithland and took Horace Greeley's advice.

Birmingham and Gadsden, Ala., experienced an earthquake shock Saturday night, sufficient to rattle doors and windows.

Senator Gus Richardson, of Meade county, was defeated for re-nomination in the Democratic primary Saturday. R. W. Owen, an administration man, won by about 275 votes.

The Governor has appointed two well-known Republican politicians, R. P. Ernst, of Covington, and J. H. Ashcroft, of Paducah, to ride in the inaugural parade at Washington March 4, as aides to Gen. Chaffee.

It is reported that 350,000 boxes of oranges and grape fruit have been ruined by the cold snap in Florida. The loss falls on buyers who purchased the crop on the trees and had not finished gathering.

The Cumberland Telephone Company has secured a reversal of the decision in the Nashville court several months ago ousting it from doing business in the State of Tennessee. The higher court decides that the company has not forfeited its charter.

Bill Britton, the principal in the murder of Jim Cockrill at Jackson, was given a life sentence at Lexington Saturday. This is the murder for which the county judge and sheriff of Breathitt county have been indicted as conspirators.

Jas. M. O'Brien, of Paris, has been drawn into the Beckham-Blackburn controversy by the Governor's uncomplimentary reference to him. He reiterates his former charge that Gov. Beckham failed to keep a peevish obligation.

Capt. Baldwin's niship made another successful trip at Los Angeles Sunday, being in flight forty-five minutes, moving in every direction, and finally descending in the inclosure from which it arose. Baldwin seems to have taken front rank as a navigator of the atmosphere, which should be another source of pride to all patriotic Americans.

There will be several after dinner talks. Mr. T. C. Underwood will be the toastmaster. The list of speakers has not been arranged, but there will be some excellent speakers present among the "parties of the second part," and it goes without the saying that the oratory will be of a very choice quality.

OUR MOTHER TONGUE.

Will be the Subject of Prof. Smith's Paper.

There will be but one regular paper at the Athenaeum Thursday evening. Mr. Ira L. Smith has been put on the program for March and the paper of the evening will be by Prof. Henry Clay Smith on "Our Mother Tongue." Prof. Smith is one of the ablest and most captivating speakers in the club, and his address—for it will probably take that form—is sure to be a literary treat.

As usual the February Cosmopolitan covers many fields of human interest. The leading article is exceedingly clever. An anonymous author—but one of large experience and keen observation in the highest ranks of society describes "The American wife in Europe." The view point is entirely new to the American reader. With the overwhelming interest in so-called "spiritualistic" and other psychic phenomena, Mr. Henry Ridgely Evans' essay, "The Rationale of Ghosts," is going to appeal to almost every one who sees the magazine. Mr. Evans is a noted authority on psychic phenomena and has here summed up in an easily comprehended manner the latest theories and opinions of the subject of ghostly apparitions and telepathic experiences. The reader will realize that we are finally penetrating the darkness that has hitherto successfully enshrouded the last widely spread superstition that the light of rationalism has been unable to banish from the human intellect.

With the February issue, "The Twentieth Century Home" begins the second year of its existence. A comparison with the first number shows a marked improvement in appearance and in policy. Certainly no more attractive magazine reaches us. It bears every evidence of prosperity, proving that there was a large place in the minds and homes of the American people for a periodical devoted to the wider interests of thinking women. The leading article this month is an interesting study of the social conditions surrounding the women of India, by Edmund Russell, who is an authority on the subject. The illustrations are of great interest.

The Hargis gang of Breathitt county, indicted at Lexington for murder, have had themselves arrested by one of their own magistrates in Breathitt county, and are fighting the right of Fayette county to try them for the murder of a man who was shot in Jackson and died in Lexington.

Louis Brownlow, late with the Nashville Banner, will become managing editor of the Paducah News-Democrat Feb. 10. He is now a Washington correspondent.

Maj. Hersey, the weather clerk at Louisville, who will be transferred tomorrow will be long remembered for the weather he left behind him.

Ferdinand J. Walts, the new weather observer for Louisville, came in on the cold wave Saturday and is ready for business.

THE above picture of the hump and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and loss strength.

LOVETT'S STARS

The Second Attraction of the Lyceum Course.

The second attraction of the regular Lyceum Course will be at the Tabernacle Saturday night, Feb. 4. It will be Lovett's Boston Stars, a high-class musical company. The Marietta, O., Lender says: "Lovett's Boston Stars, the first number of the Y. M. C. A. Course, more than filled the most sanguine expectations of the management of the association. The company is well named the "Ideal" or "Recall" company, as at every point in the program the appreciation of the dextrous work was expressed in marks unmistakable by the audience. To mention one member in preference to another would be doing injustice to the others."

Wonderful Change in One Night.

"I was troubled with eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians, my face was in such a condition that I could not go out. It was going from bad to worse and I gave up all hope, when a friend of mine highly recommended Cuticura remedy. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent it changed wonderfully, and continuing the treatment it removed all scales and scabs. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month my face was as clean as ever."

That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such standards proven beyond all doubt. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures of the civilized world. ## Everybody's for February.

The desperate increase in the cost of living is staring us in the face today. The reasons for it are asked by all. In February Everybody's, Charles E. Russell, commissioned by the magazine to investigate the subject, begins a series of articles on "The Greatest Trust in the World." In the first installment he reveals a monster monopoly, greater than the "Standard Oil," holding in its grasp all the meat, fruit, and dairy products in the United States. He shows the rapacity of this Beef Trust, its defiance of the law, its insatiable ambition to control all the food supplies of this great country. He shows its grasping hand closing surely over wheat and corn and oats. Mr. Russell's revelations are full of ghastly menace to the people over whom this terrible trust is gaining a power greater than the Government.

Mr. Lawson's contribution to "Frenzied Finance" begins with an explanation to his recent move against the "System" in Wall Street. The upbuilding of a "bull" market, the schemes and bribes used to tempt the public into buying securities, and the blow which Mr. Lawson through his widely circulated advertisements delivered at the "System," are explained clearly and in detail. Before getting under way on the story of "Amalgamated," Mr. Lawson gives an exposition of the financial structure of this country, explains the methods, the terms and the institutions of finance. He brings out an original and significant view-point on Trusts, and explains by sharp concrete examples the malfeasance possible by the use of them.

H. GIBSON O'NEILL

Not Arrested as Reported In Several Papers.

Prof. H. Gibson O'Neill, of Memphis, formerly of this city, is now treating diseases with "Functional Rays," and was recently indicted at Chattanooga for practicing without a license. Prof. O'Neill at once went to Chattanooga and gave bond, and twenty of the leading citizens of the city issued the following address: VINDICATION OF H. GIBSON O'NEILL, To Whom it May Concern.

We the undersigned citizens of Chattanooga, Tenn., desiring to refute the great injustice done to H. Gibson O'Neill, and place him in the proper light, hereby certify:

1. That he has done no advertising whatever to secure patronage.

2. That, hearing from former patients, successfully treated by his system of "Functional Rays," of his presence here, we consulted him; that the diagnosis of our cases, without any information from us, was accurate; that he undertook his treatment upon his representation of what results could be expected.

3. That he has fulfilled his promise; that we or our families have been greatly benefited by him; that he has given us eminent satisfaction, and fully earned the fees we cheerfully paid him.

4. That we have found him highly scientific; honest in his opinions; very skillful, and a perfect gentleman.

5. That, for the foregoing reasons, we have voluntarily offered and executed for him all necessary bonds as a proof of our confidence.

6. That he is doing a grand work for humanity as attested by his results, and indorsements from high medical authority.

7. That Mr. O'Neill knew nothing whatever of any charge against him; that no charge was made until he had returned to Memphis, that as soon as he learned of the charge, he telephoned he would return by the first train, and that he did return here voluntarily, by first train that very day; and is prepared to face the legal issue, viz: "Whether or not he is subject to laws requiring licenses?"

8. That this prosecution in the name of the law, is (on the very face of things) the result of sheer malice.

9. That we have yet to hear one dissenting voice, or the slightest dissatisfaction on the part of any one of the numerous cases treated by Mr. O'Neill.

10. That Mr. O'Neill has only been restrained, and remained silent, by instructions from his counsel, Messrs. Pritchard & Sizor, of this city, and at the request of his many friends.

11. That this gentleman has our determined support in the malicious prosecutions to which he is subject in the introduction of his discovery and the system of "Functional Rays."

Ninth. It is agreed by second party that all work done by him, shall be done by most approved methods, which tend to benefit the sale value and lasting qualities of tobacco.

Tenth. The party of the second part agrees to furnish hogheads to be of oak staves, or other hard wood, well seasoned and of good coopersage. Standard size of hogheads is 36 to 58 inches long, and 44 inches in head; but for short leaf and extra long, a smaller or larger hoghead may be used, when most advantageous from an aspect of sale value to do so; each hoghead is to have six good hoops.

Eleventh. It is agreed by second party, that three correct samples of not less than eight hands each, are to be taken of each hoghead, correctly put up, sealed, tagged and marked as hereafter instructed by first party, with the name of second party plainly written on each sample.

Twelfth. Second party agrees to keep one of these in good condition, until end of season, or until tobacco is sold and delivered, when it becomes the property of the Association; the other two samples to be delivered to the Association at its option.

Thirteenth. The party of the first part agrees with the party of the second part, that every member of this Association is to deliver his tobacco, in good order for pricing, and the party of the second part hereby agrees, that if any member of said Association tenders his tobacco for pricing, to the party of the second part; not in proper condition or order for pricing, he is to decline to receive it.

Fourteenth. It is agreed by second party that the pricing house used by him shall be in good, safe condition, so as to protect tobacco in consistent way against changes of the weather.

Fifteenth. The party of the second part agrees to carry at his own expense, for the benefit of any member of this Association patronizing him, what is known as a blanket policy of insurance, which is to cover in a fair valuation all tobacco left with second party for pricing.

Sixteenth. The party of the second and part agrees to make a good and sufficient bond, for the faithful and competent performance of his contract, by a Guarantee Company, to be approved by first party.

Seventeenth. It is agreed and made a part of the within contract, that the party of the second part is to receive any member of said Association in the following manner: Weight of lug, weight of seconds, and weight of lugs; and the second party furthermore agrees that each member's crop left with him, is to be kept separate from the tobacco of any other member, and that only remnants of two or more members shall be put in the same hoghead.

Eighteenth. The party of the second part furthermore agrees that the books of his pricing-house shall be kept in an accurate way, so that they may be easily understood; that his books shall at all times be subject to an inspection by an official of this Association or by an accountant or attorney, that might be selected by this Association, so far as they relate to any transaction between second party and a member of this Association; and that second party further agrees to render to this Association or to a member of same, for his own tobacco, single or duplicate statements, in writing, of weights, etc., etc.

Nineteenth. It is agreed by first party that the members of this Association are to do all hauling, to and from the pricing-house of second party.

Twentieth. It is agreed by the first party, that all tobacco is to be assorted by the member of the Association to whom the tobacco belongs, into three classes—leaf, seconds and lugs—tied in small hands; but that such further assorting as is necessary to most advantageously sell the tobacco, is to be done by second party, and that all tobacco belonging to such member shall be stripped, before any part of same is delivered to second party for pricing.

Twenty-first. Second party hereby agrees that he is not to be in any sense a purchaser or dealer of tobacco.

Twenty-second. It is agreed between both parties to this contract, that they will be guided largely by what is customary as to any decrease of weight, in tobacco left with second party for pricing, but in any case to abide what is fair and equitable.

Twenty-third. It is agreed by both parties to this contract, that in the event the member of this Association having tobacco prized, by second party, elects to pay cash, second party is to receive same in settlement, or if awaiting said contract, second party is to give him time to pay for such service, second party can, at his own election, and upon his own responsibility, do that, but where tobacco goes to a storage house, if the charges have not been otherwise arranged for, they are to follow as an advancement upon the tobacco, in the usual way; it is positively understood and agreed that second party is not to surrender tobacco, left with him to be prized, until charges have been arranged for, in an entirely business-like way.

Twenty-fourth. It is agreed by both parties to this contract, that whenever its terms are not fulfilled by either one, the other shall have the privilege of annulling said contract, and that no tobacco shall be received by second party, from a member of this Association, after the date of said annulment.

Twenty-fifth. It is agreed between both parties to this contract, that whereas, the object of this contract is the mutual benefit of all parties concerned, that where either sees the property or interest of the other being injured or in jeopardy, it shall be the duty of such party to immediately report such injury or jeopardy to the other.

Twenty-sixth. This contract is not binding unless countersigned by the Chairman of the County Committee in which County it is made.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS
The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—These are some of the phrases one hears from noted people who read The Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is The Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read The Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, first and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep up with the times, intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

HISTORIC ALAMO

Is Coming in Rapidly in Hopkinsville.

No Spot in America of More Interest
Than This One, Where an Entire Band of Men Sacrificed
Their Lives.

As the year goes on, while learning to value and respect the past, another relic existing in our midst. And here, here will soon be the historic Alamo, a history sympathetic with the efforts made by Miss Driscoll, of Texas, secretary of the Daughters of the Republic of that state, to preserve as a lasting memorial the spot in San Antonio where perished so pluckily Davy Crockett, Bowie, and their companions in the tragedy of the Alamo.

It was in the year 1836 that band of 188 men, shut up in the old mission of Alamo, held out so well against a force outnumbering them many times, for 13 days withstood the fire of attacking Mexicans under the leadership of the cruel Gen. Santa Anna. Strange as it may seem, not one of the immortal Texans lost his life during the first days of the siege; but when the Alamo at last fell, not one of them remained alive. In Austin, Tex., there stands a monument to the memory of these heroes, which bears the few, but suggestive, words:

"Thermopylae had its messenger of defeat. The Alamo had none."

No, not one was left among the Texans to tell the story, the Mexicans, when once they succeeded in forcing their way within the walls of the Alamo, cutting down without quarter. The old mission, founded by the Franciscan monks in 1722, had been built as a sort of fort, a place of defense against hostile Indians; and was of size and strength requiring a considerable force to overcome. During the Texan war for independence they having captured San Antonio and expelled the Mexicans found therein.

The fort at that time was in more or less of a state of dilapidation, but there were thick enclosing walls of adobe brick, the monastery buildings and the chapel were standing. The church at this date was roofless, but its walls were thick and a stockade connected it with the plaza. Aqueducts near the church provided good water, but during the siege the Mexicans cut off the supply. The imprisoned Texans, who were not easily discouraged, dug a well, without trouble obtaining excellent water; and, having a sufficiency of food, they waited with good heart for reinforcements to arrive and set them free. Messengers were sent to get out, and carry the tale of the Alamo's need, but help did not come in time.

The Mexicans, after 200 shells had battered the fort and done no perceptible harm, and in the meantime having lost scores of their own men at the hands of the Texas sharpshooters on the walls, resolved on a combined attack, a general sortie. On the morning of March 6, 1836, after three days of ominous quiet, those within the fort heard the thunder-clap of the final charge. Then they must have realized, the attack coming from all sides, that hope was gone; but no man thought of surrender. They first defended the walls, then were driven to the monastery, and finally to the church. Bowie, who was very ill with pneumonia, fought from his bed in the convent, died with his knife by his side. Crockett fell in the church. No man was spared. Two women, two children, two servants, were all that came out of the fort alive.

The little company of under 200 men were utterly wiped out, but the Mexicans died dearly for the loss of these lives. Not only in their own losses in the siege—variously reported 15,000 the number generally estimated; but later, for, in the decisive battle of San Jacinto, the battle that effectively routed the Texans, the cry that spurred the Texan soldiers on to victory was "Remember the Alamo!"

MORE EVIDENCE.

Is Coming in Rapidly in Hopkinsville.

Evidence on the following subject will prove of interest to every Hopkinsville reader. So many people go through the same experience daily. This public statement should be proof positive to every wavering doubter. Read it carefully.

Wm. O. Davis, cooper, of No. 603 North Main street, says: "A dull hearing down pain across my kidneys, and through the small of my back made it so painful for me to stop or lift anything that I was unable to do any work or to have any pleasure. Whenever I took cold it settled in my back and at night bothered me a great deal while lying in bed. Sharp twinges often kept me awake for hours and in the morning I arose feeling tired and devoid of all energy and ambition. The condition of the kidneys was especially annoying and distressing at night. I doctored and used many remedies until I became convinced a few days I could not get better I seemed to grow worse. Finally I happened to read an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and as they were highly recommended by people near by I could not help but believe that they were a good remedy. I got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store and after using them a few days I could see a decided improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pains in my back left me entirely and the action of the kidneys was restored to a normal and healthy condition."

TIME ON SHIPBOARD

MANY HOURS ON LONG VOYAGE ARE HAPPILY SPENT.

Anna H. Clark Tells of What the Passengers Do on a South Pacific Liner—From Victoria to Dunedin.

Dunedin, New Zealand.—It is indeed a very morose and unhappy person who cannot find that many of the long hours spent on an ocean voyage are happily spent in the various games and pastimes invented by the most energetic of the passengers.

Hardly a day passes that some one has not some new game to propose or that some of the indefatigable card players are not proposing a series of rubbers. He who is land is concerned in nothing less than the management of a great concern or the control of vast interests will devote hours to the pursuit of deck quizzics or even authors. Cribbage, whist, bridge, euchre, every game one could think of hold the social hall and the smoking room in thrall.

During the morning there are more stirring games for athletically inclined, races from the three-legged race to the potato race, men and women racing up and down the slanting deck trying to carry a large potato on a tiny spoon.

Nearly every day there are chances sold on the length of the run. As this varies from day to day for each 24 hours the bidding for the scores is sometimes very lively.

Numbers, approximately what the run has been for the last 24 hours, are put up at auction, the holder of the lucky number sometimes winning quite a sum.

On every trip there is a tug of war, or rather two, one for the ladies and one for the men. There are many preliminary pulls, the captain of each team coaching his band till all are in good trim for the final tussle.

During a trip through tropic waters the men on board have one great advantage over the women: a large tank built of heavy canvas is erected at one end of the boat and every morning the men come tumbling out in their bathing suits for a dive and a plunge in the water. Occasionally in obstacle races about the boat the men are compelled to go through a hoop suspended in the middle of the tank.

The large ships now all carry fire libraries for the use of the passengers. This is very acceptable for the stock of the individual grows rapidly to the end and a good book is always the best way of passing a few hours in a long afternoon. If the people on board are the least inclined to be morose there are always plenty of petitions for a walk or two-step, though the unstable floor of an ocean steamer is the worst place in the world to dance. The best part of the dance is the promenade after the deck, swung with lights, the white-fleeced water with its gleams of phosphorus and the brilliant stars that never seem so near nor so bright as when they crowd from one side of the horizon to another bounded only by endless space. A large steamer is like a great hotel, every one is but a unit of the whole. By the second day out cliques have formed and you learn people in a few weeks' time as you would perhaps never know them in an ordinary acquaintance.

The part is the breaking up perhaps forever of friendships formed. The gala dinner always given on the night before the landing has more sadness than we would think possible when we remember that on the morrow we have reached our chosen destination, and to most of those who have traveled so far together remains the memory of happy care-free hours idled away in pleasant company.

to the tight wire guarantee on these right wire springs.

Victor No. 1 Spring Beds are constructed from the very best quality of heavy coil spring wire made in the United States. Each and every coil is re-tempered to get the greatest tensile strength combined with firm elasticity. The patented method of construction is the simplest, strongest and most practical way of combining single coils of spring wire with separate cross-wires. All parts are interlaced together so that each bed is just one huge, satisfactory, comfort-producing spring.

The manufacturer gives us a guarantee for five full years. We do the same to you.

Try a set for thirty nights. If not up to every test we will take them back without a cent of expense. Fits any bed—fit for every bed.

EIGHT INCHES DEEP.

Snow One of The Deepest In 19 Years.

The snow of Sunday is 8 inches on a level and is the deepest for several years. The heaviest snow ever recorded by the Kentuckian was on Tuesday, Feb. 2, 1886. It fell 21 inches on a level and there were many drifts several feet in depth. Business was entirely suspended and everybody shoveled snow. In the 60's there was at one time 18 inches of snow on the ground, but it was a succession of snows piled one on the other. The fall this time came all at once and in 1886 was followed by a cold wave. All of the coal dealers yesterday were overrun with orders.

February National.

American life is broadly and attractively reported in the National for February. In terse text and picture the scope of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition and Oriental Fair and the charms of the Northwest are set forth. "Women Weavers of the Provinces" takes reader back to the side of the map and into the quaint, old-fashioned Canadian homes where, within a night's ride from Boston, the looms and spinning wheels of a century ago are still generally used. "Affairs at Washington" tells of the president's busy day with his callers—a stormy, wintry day it chanced to be. The South is represented in Ethel Ames' very funny interview with "Uncle Remus"; in Kelly Miller's discussion of "Social Equality" from the viewpoint of the educated negro and in Frank Putnam's paper, and in a vividly dramatic short story by E. Crayton McClants, of South Carolina, entitled "At the End of the March."

Beginning with the newest portraits of Pope Pius X and Henrik Ibsen as frontispieces, the National's illustrations are timely and of permanent value.

Several of the churches made no attempts to have services Sunday night, on account of the all-day snow-storm.

K. I. T. LEAGUE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

Farnbaker Goes Away Back And Sits Down, to the Satisfaction of All.

BROWN IS PRESIDENT.

Clarksville Drops Out And Princeton, Ind., Comes Into the League.

For four hours Sunday afternoon at Paducah the Kentucky-Illinois-Tennessee League officials were dosedlocked on a Secretary, and during the proceedings some heated arguments took place, but when the meeting ended all was harmony. The officers elected were: President, Chas. W. Brown, Paducah; Vice-President, Floyd J. Biggs, Princeton; Secretary, W. P. Greaney, Cairo; Treasurer, C. C. Gonnell, Vincennes; Jake Zimbro, of Henderson, and W. P. Greaney, of Cairo, had three votes each for four hours, the latter winning when Paducah left Zimbro. Clarksville, Tenn., was dropped and Princeton, Ind., taken in. The circuit is:

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.
PADUCAH, KY.
HENDERSON, KY.
CAIRO, ILL.
PRINCETON, IND.
VINCENNES, IND.

The guarantee was left at $30, or 50 per cent. of the gate receipts and the forfeit $200. The salary of umpires was raised from $50 to $75. President Brown will select the umpires.

Farnbaker, of Cairo, was sat upon and will have nothing to do with the new management. Even the Cairo people got tired of his methods. Keiler, of Paducah, retired from the meeting leaving a proxy and the proxy voted for Greaney over Zimbro. The new secretary is a banker and is said to be a big improvement over Farnbaker in every way. The officers were required to give bond before handling the deposits, and there will be no monkeying with the funds this year.

The Hopkinsville people will regret that Clarksville dropped out. There was much friendly rivalry between the two near-by teams, and the Clarksville boys have many friends here.

Local Prospects.

A meeting of the base ball men was held Friday night and President Hancock, of the K. I. T., was instructed to go ahead with assurances of public backing in the preparations for a strong team. Seventeen good players are now held by Hopkinsville, and no team in the League has a better list to make up a team from.

OLD SHELL

Lets Go and Kills a Todd County Farmer.

Charles Ware, a young farmer of Todd county, son of Nick Ware, was killed in Clarksville Sunday by the explosion of a shell, a relic of the civil war. Mr Ware was in the office of a tobacco warehouse alone at the time, and it is supposed that he threw the shell into the fire, thinking it was a stick of wood. It weighed eight pounds and had been kept as a curiosity, no one thinking it was loaded.

BOOZE SELLER

Held to Answer in the Federal Court.

At the examining trial of William Brown, col., of Madisonville, charged with selling liquor without a license, the prisoner was held over to the Federal court by Commissioner Yonts. Brown, who was brought here by U. S. Deputy Marshal Nichols, was taken to Owensboro by the officer. He was unable to furnish the $300 bond required and will remain in the Davies county jail until court meets.

Next Thursday is "Ground Hog Day," and, according to tradition and those who believe in him, if the Anctomys Monax sees his shadow on that date, there will undoubtedly be six weeks more of severe winter weather, and his hogs will return to his bed to indulge in another long nap. If, however, the day should be cloudy and he fails to see his shadow it is a sign that the backbone of winter has been broken, so the story goes.

McClure's for February.

The February McClure's gets right to the spot—we should say the three spots—on our national character: "Business" Government, Violence and Lawlessness, and "The Smothering Corporation." Real conditions, these stirring events that make you think hard and cuss hard, interpreted and analyzed by experts, with practical suggestions of hope. There is plenty of fiction in the number, both moving and exciting, but the most startling narrative of all is Lincoln Steffen's damning account of Rhode Island politics.

How votes, legislation, the honor of the state, are pawned by those who should guard its interests, and how every American is keenly concerned in the story, through the prominence of Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island in national politics, Mr. Steffen tells with astonishing directness.

Another right-arm jolt is that administered to the friends and the institution of "lynching in the North," by Ray Stannard Baker. No more lenient, no less blunt than when he wrote last month of the South, Mr. Baker described conditions in the "lynching towns" he visited—Springfield, Ohio, where he found disgraceful inefficiency of officers and supineness of citizens; Danville, Illinois, where he found a hero. In its impartiality and dramatic interest, this is one of Mr. Baker's best articles.
